CHAPTER XXIII.

THE summer is scarcely a good time to visit Egypt, but Monty and his guests had a desire to see even a little of the northern coast of Africa. It was decided, therefore, that after Athens the Flitter should go south. The yacht had met them at Naples after the automobile procession—a kind of triumphal progress—was disbanded in Florence, and they had taken a hurried survey of Rome. By the middle of July the party was leaving the heat of Egypt and finding it not half bad. New York was not more than a month away as Brewster reckoned time and distance, and there was still too much money in the treasury. As September drew nearer he got into the habit of frequently forgetting Swearingen Jones until it was too late to retrace his steps. He was coming to the "death struggle," as he termed it, and there was something rather terrifying in the fear that "the million might die hard." And so these last days and nights were glorious ones, if one could have looked at them with unbiased, untroubled eyes. But every member of his party was praying for the day when the Flitter would be well into the broad Atlantic and the worst over. At Alexandria Brewster had letters to some Englishmen and in the few entertainments that he gave succeeded once again in fairly outdoing Aladdin.

A sheik from the interior was a guest at one of Monty's entertainments. He was a burly, but blooded fellow, with a densely populated harem, and he had been invited more as a curiosity than as one to be honored. As he came aboard the Flitter Monty believed the invitation was more than justified. Mohammed was superb, and the women of the party made so much of him that it was small wonder that his head was turned. He fell desperately in love with Peggy Gray on sight, and with all the composure of a potentate who has never been crossed he sent for Brewster the next day and told him to "send her around," and he would marry her.

Monty's blood boiled furiously for a minute or two, but he was quick to see the wisdom of treating the proposition diplomatically. He tried to make it plain to the sheik that Miss Gray could not accept the honor he wished to confer upon her, but it was not Mohammed's custom to be denied anything he asked for, especially anything feminine. He complacently announced that he would come aboard that afternoon and talk it over with Peggy.

Brewster looked the swarthy gentleman over with unconcealed disgust in his eyes. The mere thought of this ugly brute so much as touching the hand of little Peggy Gray filled him with horror, and yet there was something laughable in the situation. He could not hide the smile that came with the mind picture of Peggy listening to the avowal of the sheik. The Arab misinterpreted this exhibition of mirth. To him the grin indicated friendship and encouragement. He wanted to give Brewster a ring as a pledge of affection, but the American declined the offering and also refused to carry a bag of jewels to Peggy.

"I'll let the old boy come aboard just to see Peggy look a hole through him," he resolved. "No matter how obnoxious it may be, it isn't every girl who can say an oriental potentate has asked her to marry him. If this camel her, or gets disagreeable we may tumble him into the sea for a change."

With the best grace possible he invited the sheik to come aboard and consult Miss Gray in person. Mohammed was a good bit puzzled over the intimation that it would be necessary for him to plead for anything he had expressed a desire to possess. Brewster condescended the news to Rip Van Winkle and Subway Smith, who had gone ashore with him, and the trio agreed that it would be good sport to let the royal proposal come as a surprise to Peggy. Van Winkle returned to the yacht at once, but his companions stayed ashore to do some shopping. When they approached the Flitter later on they observed an unusual commotion on deck.

Mohammed had not tarried long after their departure. He gathered his train together, selected a few costly presents that had been returned from the harem and advanced on the boat without delay. The captain of the Flitter stared long and hard at the early bedecked launches and then called to his first officer. Together they watched the ceremonious approach. A couple of brown faced heralds came aboard first and announced the approach of the mighty chief. Captain Perry went forward to greet the sheik as he came over the side of the ship, but he was brushed aside by the advance guards. Half a hundred swarthy fellows crowded aboard, and then came the sheik, the personification of pomp and pride.

"Where is she?" he asked in his native tongue. The passengers were by this time aware of the visitation and began to straggle on deck, filled with curiosity.

"What do you mean by coming aboard in this manner?" demanded the now irate Captain Perry, shoving a couple of retainers out of his path and facing the beaming suitor. An interpreter took a hand at this juncture, and the doughty captain finally was made to understand the object of the visit. He laughed in the sheik's face and told the mate to call up a few jacksies to drive the "daggers" off. Rip Van Winkle interfered, and peace was restored. The cruise had changed Rip into a happier and far more radiant creature, so it was only natural that he should have shared the secret with Mary Valentine. He had told the story of the sheik's demand to her as soon as he came aboard, and she had divulged it to Peggy the instant Rip was out of sight.

Brewster found the sheik sitting in state on the upper deck impatiently awaiting the appearance of his charmer. He did not know her name, but he had tranquilly commanded Rip to produce all of the women on board so that he might select Peggy from among them. Van Winkle and Bragdon, who now was in the secret, were preparing to march the ladies past the ruler when Monty came up.

"Has he seen Peggy?" he asked of Van Winkle.

"Not yet. She is dressing for the occasion."

"Well, wait and see what happens to him when she gets over the first shock," laughed Monty.

Just then the sheik discovered Peggy, who, pretty as a picture, drew near the strange group. To her amazement, two slaves rushed forward and obstructed her passage long enough to beat their heads on the deck a few times, after which they arose and tendered two magnificent necklaces. She was prepared for the proposal, but this action disconcerted her. She gasped and looked about in perplexity. Her friends were smiling broadly, and the sheik had placed his hands over his palpitating heart.

"Lothario has a pain," whispered Rip Van Winkle sympathetically, and Brewster laughed. Peggy did not hesitate an instant after hearing the laugh. She walked straight toward the sheik. Her cheeks were pink, and her eyes were flashing dangerously. The persistent brown slaves followed with the jewels, but she ignored them completely. Brave as she intended to be, she could not repress the shudder of repulsion that went over her as she looked full upon this eager Arab.

Graceful and slender, she stood before the burly Mohammed, but his ardor was not cooled by the presence of so many witnesses. With a thud he dropped to his knees, wabbling for a moment in the successful effort to maintain a poetic equilibrium. Then he began pouring forth volumes of shattered French, English and Arabic sentiment, accompanied by facial contortions so intense that they were little less than greswome.

"Oh, joy of the sun supreme, jewel of the only eye, hearken to the entreaty of Mohammed." It was more as if he were commanding his troops in battle than pleading for the tender compassion of a ladylove. "I am come for you, queen of the sea and earth and sky. My boats are here, my camels there, and Mohammed promises you a palace in the sunlit hills if you will but let him bask forever in the glory of your smile."

All this was uttered in a mixture of tongues so atrocious that Subway Smith afterward described it as a salad. The retinue bowed impressively, and two or three graceless Americans applauded as vigorously as if they were approving the actions of a well drilled comic opera chorus. Sailors were hanging in the rigging, on the davits and over the deck house roof.

"Smile for the gentleman, Peggy," commanded Brewster delightedly. "He wants to take a short bask."

"You are very rude, Mr. Brewster," said Peggy, turning upon him coldly. Then to the waiting, expectant sheik, "What is the meaning of this eloquence?"

Mohammed looked bewildered for a moment and then turned to the interpreter, who cleared up the mystery surrounding her English. For the next three or four minutes the air was filled with the "jewels of Africa," "star," "sunlight," "queen," "heavenly joy,"

"pearl of the desert" and other things in bad English, worse French and perfect Arabic. He was making promises that could not be redeemed if he lived a thousand years. In conclusion the gallant sheik drew a long breath, screwed his face into a sniggering grin and played his trump card in unmistakable English. It sounded pathetically like "You're a peach."

An indecorous roar went up from the white spectators, and a jacksy in the rigging, suddenly thinking of home, piped up with a bar or two from "The Star Spangled Banner."

Having accomplished what he considered to be his part of the ceremony, the sheik arose and started toward his launch, coolly motioning for her to follow. So far as he was concerned the matter was closed. But Peggy, her heart thumping like a trip hammer, her eyes full of excitement, implored him to stop for a moment.

"I appreciate this great honor, but I have a request to make," she said clearly. Mohammed paused irresolutely and in some irritation.

"Here's where the heathen gets it among the beads," whispered Monty to Mrs. Dan. And he called out, "Captain Perry, detail half a dozen men to pick up the beads that are about to slip from his majesty's neck."

End of a Big Job.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Underground connections have been completed by the Illinois Tunnel company with all the freight houses and yards of every steam railway here. The company is now handling about 7,000 tons of freight daily and estimates that the completion of the connections with the steam railways means immediate doubling of that haulage.

New Danger to Dentists.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 3.—Dr. Lucas, dentist, while removing a tooth from a patient, was struck in the eye by a piece of the decayed tooth, which caused an affection that may result in the loss of sight in that eye.

No new cases of yellow fever on the Isthmus have been reported to the Panama canal commission. The last case was reported on July 28.

MOSQUITO THEORY

Seems to Be Borne Out in the Situation at New Orleans.

THE FIGHT IS KEPT UP

Health Authorities Are Maintaining the Utmost Vigilance in Battle With Yellow Jack.

New Cases Confined Almost Wholly to Italians Who Sleep Without Mosquito Bars.

New Orleans, Aug. 3.—Present reports of the fever situation show again an increase in the number of deaths, but the health authorities confess to no alarm over the situation and say that more fatalities are to be looked for from the fact that in the past three or four days there has been a sufficient increase in the number of cases to warrant the expectation of a heavier mortality. High temperatures succeeded by heavy precipitation and cooler weather produced climatic conditions also favorable to fatalities. Practically all of the deaths were of Italians and nearly all of them were either in the emergency hospital or in the district adjacent thereto. Some of the victims were unfortunately whose cases were only reported in the past two days, indicating that they were practically in a moribund condition when their illness was discovered.

There is no dissent among the authorities from the view expressed by Health Officer Kohnke that conditions are hopeful. There is of course a certain geometrical progression to be considered in the appearance both of new cases and of deaths, and for some time to come the visible results of the scientific campaign that is being waged will be few. In the meantime there is and there will be no relaxation in the energy with which the battle is being fought, and with only a slender number of isolated cases in the district above Canal street, it is confidently believed that once the infection begins to decline in the section below, where the conditions, sanitarily and otherwise, are more favorable for a spread of the disease, there will be little difficulty in stamping out the cases which may be under treatment elsewhere. There is no attempt to conceal the fact that the extent of the fever spells a serious state of affairs, but there is not believed to be any justification of terror which seems to have spread over the country outside of New Orleans.

That the fever continues as an Italian infection is borne out by an analysis of the full report of the city board to the state board of yesterday's forty-two new cases and six deaths. In the list of forty-two the Italian victims number thirty-five. The six dead were all Italians. The originally infected area in the vicinity of the French market furnishes the bulk of the new cases. Almost without exception the victims are persons of humble station in life.

In spite of all that has been done to reassure them, many of the Italians continue to make efforts to conceal their cases. They are still stricken with panic and they turn in fear from the doctors and health officers. One of the reasons why the fever has spread so extensively among the Italians is said to be the fact that many of them have been accustomed to sleep without bars. Whether or not there is illness here or not, ninety-nine out of every hundred people in New Orleans in the summer time are forced to sleep under netting to protect themselves against mosquitoes. The humble Italians have in many instances refused to follow the custom. In consequence they have been prey to the plague of insects and since the fever appeared infected stegomyia have stung them at will.

Shreveport, La., Aug. 3.—Only two railroads, the Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific, and the Cotton Belt, are taking passengers out of the city, and these are going to the mountains of Tennessee and the Carolinas, or to points in Missouri or some more northern state. All trains from the south are stopped at the parish line, twenty miles distant, and are not permitted to come into the parish. A north-bound train on the Kansas City Southern was halted at the parish line and all passengers were left stranded on two sleepers and two coaches. The engine and mail cars were fumigated and allowed to come into the city.

Illinois Takes Precautions.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 3.—The portion of Illinois lying south of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad, which extends from St. Louis to Vincennes, Ind., has been declared quarantined against all fever-infected points. Dr. J. A. Egan, secretary of the Illinois state board of health, has sent to Springfield for four inspectors and they will at once begin their work of inspecting all trains and steamboats.

Blow to Baseball.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 3.—Every team in the Cotton States League has disbanded on account of quarantine regulations, and the players are now on the outlook for opportunities to sign with other clubs.

and had to be assisted from the stand in the park. He walked to the Iroquois hotel and repaired to his room immediately. To all callers he sent word that he would be unable to see anyone.

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE

Traffic on Northwestern Roads Seriously Delayed.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 3.—With the telegraphers almost to a man remaining loyal to their union, chiefs and the railway officials making every effort to maintain traffic, the telegraphers' strike on the transcontinental systems of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads has taken on the aspect of a war to the finish. Hundreds of men have gone out on both lines, necessitating the closing of scores of stations and immense hindrance has been caused in the moving of trains. Through limited trains and time freights by great effort have been kept almost on schedule time, but attempts have principally been abandoned to maintain local freight and passenger service. The greatest interference in schedules has been on the Idaho division, some of the fast trains being delayed five hours where the striking operators had turned the signal boards or opened the circuits. The railway officials say that they are well satisfied with the situation and that inside of ten days they will have enough men to fill the places of the strikers and maintain a normal service.

Cuban Congress Checked.

Havana, Aug. 3.—It appears to be tacitly understood among the senators that the proposition to continue the sessions of congress until November, to which both houses originally agreed, shall be practically a dead letter and that no more sessions shall be held except to pass the soldiers' pay bill and possibly a few others. The Moderates recently have been most active in preventing quorums in the senate because the Liberals would have had majorities enabling them to pass certain Liberal bills now before that body.

THEY'RE ALL HERE

With Mr. Witte's Arrival Peace Mission Is Now Complete.

A CORDIAL RECEPTION

Russian Statesman Was Evidently Well Pleased With His Welcome at New York City.

He Landed as Quietly and Democratically as Any of His Humbler Fellow Passengers.

New York, Aug. 3.—Clothed with plenary powers, personally prepared and signed by his sovereign, Sergius Witte, Russia's ranking plenipotentiary to the Washington conference, landed here as quietly and democratically as the most humble of his fellow passengers. Mr. Ludvigensky, the Russian consul general, went down the harbor in a revenue cutter officially to greet the distinguished envoy, and was received on deck by M. Witte while the Kaiser Wilhelm was at quarantine. Awaiting Mr. Witte at the dock was Baron Rosen, Russian ambassador at Washington, with his first secretary of embassy, Mr. Hanson. Baron Rosen came on board as soon as the ship reached the dock and cordially greeted his conferee. After ten minutes' conversation, during which the majority of the passengers landed, Mr. Witte came down the gang plank on the arm of Baron Rosen, followed by his suite, but soon found his passage impeded by a tremendous crowd, who cheered him and whose greetings Mr. Witte smilingly acknowledged by repeatedly lifting his hat. Several policemen soon came to his rescue and cleared a passage to the automobile which was awaiting the party outside the dock.

Soon after the ship left quarantine Mr. Witte, surrounded by a large group of newspaper men who came down the harbor on the revenue cutter, and by as many of the passengers as could crowd around him, called to his side Prof. DeMartens, a member of his suite, and handed to him a statement with the direction that he deliver it in English as the greeting of Mr. Witte upon his arrival in this country. Prof. DeMartens read the greeting in a clear voice, and at its conclusion Mr. Witte received a hearty ovation, which evidently pleased him and which he acknowledged by several bows and then walked away to another side of the ship to look at the statue of Liberty.

As Mr. Witte does not speak English he was not pressed for an interview, but the members of his party were each approached for their views about the negotiations. Naturally on a subject of such delicacy they were reticent, but this much was ascertained beyond doubt:

In scope the powers of Mr. Witte, who comes as plenipotentiary of Russia to discuss with the Japanese plenipotentiaries means of ending the war, and provided a basis acceptable to Russia is obtained, to sign the treaty of Washington, equal in every way the powers handed to Baron Komura by the Japanese emperor. Mr. Witte brings with him instructions prepared by his emperor which outline the general policy which he is authorized to pursue. They are in many respects elastic and will aid rather than hamper Mr. Witte, provided the terms submitted by Japan, in his opinion, appear reasonable. It was also made plain by several of Mr. Witte's suite that he had not come to the Washington conference to obtain peace at any price. Officially the Russian mission is, of course, unaware of Japan's terms, and until they have been handed to Mr. Witte by Baron Komura, "Russia will await results patiently and without anxiety." Was the way a close friend of Mr. Witte expressed the attitude of his country.

The officials of the Russian peace commission accompanying Mr. Witte are: J. Shipoff, director of the treasury department; Mr. Nabokoff, the foreign office; Jean Korotovitz, formerly secretary of the Russian legation at Peking; Georges Planchon, formerly Russian charge d'affaires at Peking; General V. K. Samoiloff of the Russian foreign office, and Prof. De Martens, professor of international law at St. Petersburg.

Suspected Murderer Arrested.

Carmi, Ill., Aug. 3.—Sheriff Connerly of White county arrested Luther Gillham near Centerville, Ill., and he is locked up in jail here charged with the murder of William Jones, whose dead body was found near here two days ago. Jones disappeared July 22 and had $200 and a gold watch on his person. When Jones was found he had a halter strap tied about his neck that was fastened to a sapling, and the theory is that the murderers aimed to hang the body to leave the impression that Jones committed suicide, but were frightened away before they finished their work.

Alleged Boodler on Trial.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 3.—The taking of testimony is in progress in the trial of Senator Frank H. Farris on the charge of bribery during the legislative session of 1901 in connection with the bill for the repeal of the law prohibiting the use of alum in baking powder.

INSURANCE INSPECTION

Interstate Movement May Grow Out of Chicago Meeting.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Three large insurance companies of New York are to be investigated by the insurance commissioners of Tennessee, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Minnesota as the result of a meeting of eight state insurance commissioners held here. Another result of the conference is to be the interstate investigation of all large life insurance companies, so that alleged misapplication of funds and mismanagement may become a thing of the past.

It was the unanimous opinion of the experts attending the convention that there should be interstate inspection of insurance companies, and by that method fair and unprejudiced reports would be made on all. Only those known to be in favor of such a move and men known to be among the reform commissioners of the United States were invited to attend the conference, and it is said that a so-called combination is to be formed whereby several commissioners will look into the business of all life insurance companies having license to operate in their respective states. Some of those present at the meeting were unable to agree with the four men taking initiative in the investigation, because of lack of power. These men, it is expected, will later join the movement and make it unanimous among Western and Southern states.

The men who will go to New York on Aug. 10 and begin the investigation are Reau E. Folk, state treasurer of Tennessee, and ex-officio insurance commissioner; Henry R. Prewitt, insurance commissioner of Kentucky; Zen M. Host, insurance commissioner of Wisconsin, and Thomas D. O'Brien, insurance commissioner of Minnesota.

The other men who attended the convention, but who did not join in the movement, were W. R. Vrenenburgh, superintendent of insurance of Illinois; James W. Barry, insurance commissioner of Michigan; B. F. Carroll, auditor of state and ex-officio insurance commissioner of Iowa, and J. J. Brinkerhoff, actuary for the Illinois department of insurance. A. J. Verry, insurance commissioner of Ohio, was unable to attend.

CONTROVERSY ENDED

Sisters' Struggle for Custody of Their Mother Amicably Settled.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—An end to the struggle over the custody of Mrs. Sarah Mulholland, the wealthy widow of Vicksburg, Miss., was reached in the superior court yesterday afternoon when the parties to the controversy, Mrs. May Fovell and the Misses Daisy and Marie Mulholland, agreed to dismiss the habeas corpus proceedings begun by Mrs. Fovell, who alleged that her mother was being held a prisoner by her two unmarried daughters.

It was agreed that Patrick Henry of Vicksburg, the administrator of the Mulholland estate, shall have the management of the affairs of Mrs. Mulholland in the future. He will decide where she will live and at what times she will visit her daughters.

Church Union Proposed.

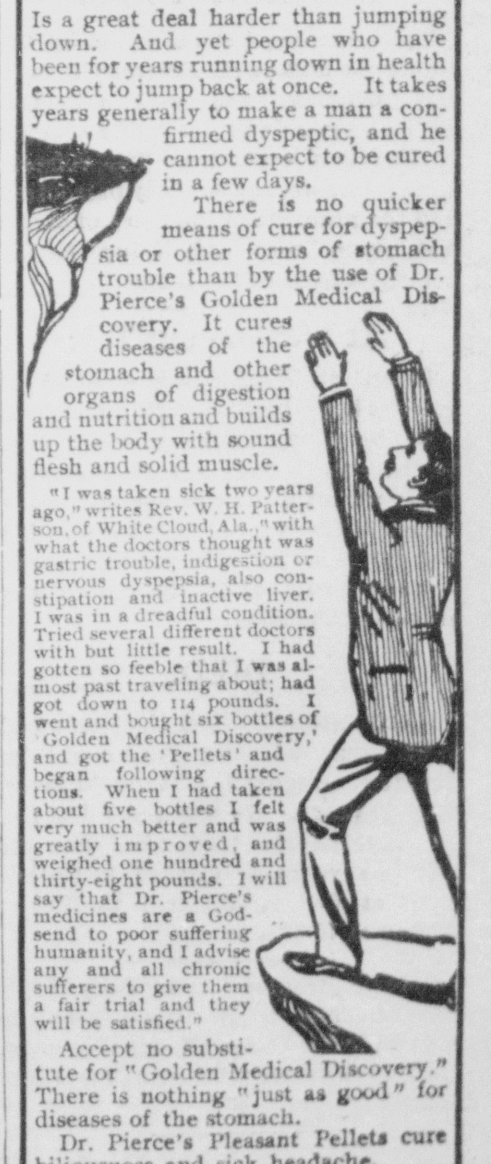

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—A joint committee of the Methodist Protestant, Congregational and United Brethren churches met here and after discussing informally the question of consolidating the denominations, decided to gather at Dayton, O., Feb. 7, 1906, and take formal action on the matter. Nothing as to the nature of the plans for consolidating could be learned, but it was decided, however, that the plans must be ratified by the different denominations before the union can be effected. The Congregational church has a total membership of 600,000, the United Brethren church 300,000 members, and the Methodist Protestant church has 200,000 members.

JUMPING UP

Is a great deal harder than jumping down. And yet people who have been for years running down in health expect to jump back at once. It takes years generally to make a man a confirmed dyspeptic, and he cannot expect to be cured in a few days. There is no quicker means of cure for dyspepsia or other forms of stomach trouble than by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"I was taken sick two years ago," writes Rev. W. H. Patterson, of White Cloud, Ala., "with what the doctors thought was gastric trouble, indigestion or nervous dyspepsia, also constipation and inactive liver. I was in a dreadful condition. Tried several different doctors with but little result. I had gotten so feeble that I was almost past traveling about; had got down to its pounds. I went and bought six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and got the 'Pellets' and began following directions. When I had taken about five bottles I felt very much better and was greatly improved, and weighed one hundred and thirty-eight pounds. I will say that Dr. Pierce's medicines are a God-send to poor suffering humanity, and I advise any and all chronic sufferers to give them a fair trial, and they will be satisfied."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1905.

SOUTHERN Illinois has quarantined against the yellow fever and passengers from infected districts will not be permitted to leave the trains at any point in Illinois south of the B. & O. S. W. railroad.

ALL the big insurance companies will be investigated to a certain extent. It is suspected that many of them are managed just like the Equitable was, in the interest of the managers instead of the policy holders. Recent exposures make it apparent that the policy holders are paying too much for their insurance.

If anybody is inclined to go into an argument with the governor as to the enforcement of law, he should first understand that he places himself in rather an awkward position at the outset, and Governor Hanly is not likely to make it any the less embarrassing for him before he gets through with the discussion.

It is said that fifty loafers in Logansport who admitted that they were out of a job and pretended that they wanted work, refused $25 a week to go into the harvest field. Here in these fifty loafers will be found just fifty citizens who agree with Eugene Debs that a poor man is a slave in this country, that the poor man has no opportunity and that the only way to make this land a paradise is to adopt a socialistic government.

THE railroad commission has already set out upon work that must inevitably accomplish a great deal of good. The purpose of the commissioners is to secure a redress of actual grievances if possible without going into the courts. This is wise and in the end will prove the best for all concerned. Already it has secured reductions that would not have been made without its action and it has actual results to show, as a reason for its existence up to this time. And this is scarcely the beginning.

Picnic At Peter's Lake.

In honor of Miss Irene Ferris, of Lawrenceburg, a number of young people took their supper to Peter's Cabin this afternoon and will spend the evening there and on the lake. The members of the party were Misses Madge Montgomery, Margaret Thompson, Elsie Cordes, Lenore Stanfield, Edna Swope, Nell Phelan, Helen Andrews, Lillian and Alma Swope, of Quincy Ill., Mary and Louise Schuler, of Crothersville and Miss Ferris, and Harlan Montgomery, Don and Lynn Bollinger, Fred Price, Maurice Jennings, Charles Phelan, Will Masters, Tip Ross, Julius Peter, Ohmer James and Cyrrill Charles.

Spent Day Pleasantly.

Mrs. Atha and Mrs. Oscar Carter very pleasantly entertained Mrs. J. A. Forsythe and her niece Miss Mabel White, of Missouri, Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Clayton, Mrs. Dr. J. H. Carter, Mrs. Esther Carter, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones and Mrs. W. H. Newby, of Indianapolis, at their home east of the city yesterday. It will be a day long remembered by those present for the pleasant acquaintances made and the delightful way in which they were entertained.

Rathbones' Social.

The ice cream festival given by the Rathbone Sisters on Pomeroy's lawn last evening was well attended. Music was rendered during the evening by Eudaly's orchestra. The refreshment tables were generously patronized and the proceeds of the sales of cream and cake were gratifying to the earnest efforts of the ladies.

At Washington Too.

Down at Washington a band of gypsies have been operating and their practices were similar to those used by the bands that passed this way. Their way of getting money and other things border very closely to stealing and some of their tribe will likely have to answer to that charge before they get out of the state.

DIED.

HACKMAN.—William Hackman died at his home in Grassy Fork township, Tuesday, August 1, of typhoid fever, aged 29 years. He was the oldest son of Commissioner Hackman. For the past two years he clerked in Bolle's store at Ewing. Funeral at Wegan Friday at 10:30 a. m.

"Marie Bradley" and "Tony Boy" two of Thos. Hopewell's horses are entered in the Osgood races this week. Both of them are scheduled for races today.

A. R. TALBOT

Head Consul of M. W. A. Will Attend Log Rolling.

The man who stands at the head of the Modern Woodmen of America will be present at the Log Rolling here in September. This man is Hon. A. R. Talbot, of Lincoln, Nebraska. ## A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be given with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indications of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

POLITICAL GOSPEL

Deputy State Auditor Being Recommended to Succeed His Chief.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 3.—It seems that nearly all the Republican leaders of Marion county are lining up for John Billheimer, deputy auditor of state, in his canvass for the nomination for auditor. Letters endorsing his candidacy are being received by Mr. Billheimer every day. Many of these are from Indianapolis men, but many, too, are from prominent politicians all over the state. As deputy auditor, Mr. Billheimer has familiarized himself with the details of the office as no other man in the position has for a long time. Among the Republicans who have declared themselves in favor of Mr. Billheimer's candidacy are Harry New, acting chairman of the national Republican committee; Congressman Overstreet of the Seventh district, and Watson of the Sixth; A. A. Young, collector of customs; Floyd Woods, chairman of the Seventh district; Joseph Kealing, United States district attorney for Indiana; State Senator Martin Hugg; Representatives William Bosson, Newton Harding, Cyrus Clark, and others.

The Republican board of primary election commissioners has authorized City Chairman Robert Metzger to canvass the returns of the primary election held on June 30, and to do all in his power to detect errors of count and evidences of unfairness. This action was the result of a petition for a recount of the primary vote filed by Ferdinand C. Smock, who failed by twenty-one votes to get on the ticket as candidate for councilman at large. In his petition Mr. Smock charged carelessness on the part of the election commissioners in tabulating the returns. While the work of the city chairman will not be exactly in the nature of a recount, it will lead to the same result. Mr. Smock is given the privilege of informing Chairman Metzger which bags he desires reopened that their ballots may be compared with the totals filed by the judges. Charles A. Bookwalter, who was nominated for mayor on the ticket, recommended that Mr. Smock's petition be properly and fairly considered.

Dr. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, has taken it upon himself to compel the railroads of the state to improve the sanitary conditions about their stations. He has just returned from a tour of Indiana, which showed him that the railroads were very derelict in providing clean waiting and toilet rooms. Already he has addressed letters to various companies, warning them to "clean up." Dr. Hurty does not anticipate any trouble in securing a compliance with his orders. He thinks that the conditions are largely due to negligent agents. "We have received several replies," he said, "in which the railroad officials expressed surprise at the conditions as depicted in the letters sent from this office, and thanked us for informing them of the true state of affairs, as well as assuring us that they would see to it that compliance was made immediately. The sanitary conditions about most of the stations visited by myself were such as to start and spread disease."

BOLD BANK BURGLARY

New Town in Illinois Given a Shaking Up by Crackmen.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 3.—The safe of the bank of Royal was robbed of $4,000. Nitroglycerin was used to open the safe and the bank building was almost demolished. The safe door was blown through the roof of the building and the safe so shattered that the robbers had difficulty in finding the money it had contained. The explosion was heard for miles, and the noise brought citizens from their houses, but they were held off at muzzles of guns until the robbers escaped. Shots were exchanged, but no one is known to have been injured. The bank and building is owned by Leo Freese of Ogden, and D. C. Van Doy of Urbana. The papers and books were badly damaged. Royal is a new town on the Villa Grove branch of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad.

The bank at Westville, a mining town, four miles south of Danville, was also entered by robbers, but no money was obtained.

Two stores at Potomac also were burglarized.

Mayor Under Investigation.

New York, Aug. 3.—According to statements today, Mayor William H. Belcher of Paterson, N. J., has not returned to his home there and there is considerable speculation as to his whereabouts. ## Regimental Reunions and Forty-

Second Anniversary Battle Chickamauga, Chattanooga, September 17-21, 1905.

On September 18, 1905, will occur the forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Chickamauga. It is proposed to celebrate this memorable event with a reunion of the various regiments that participated in this memorable battle, and, in addition, to hold at the same time, a grand reunion of all the regiments that participated in the various battles fought around Chattanooga. This reunion will be held at Chickamauga National Park, September 18, 19, 20, and 21, and the present indications are that it will be the largest and most notable gathering ever held in the south. On the above dates, the remnants from the armies of twelve states, comprising the following: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky, will assemble, many for the first time since they marched from its blood-stained fields, forty-two years ago.

Grand and glorious will be the meeting and all who attend will have cause to rejoice. The lowest rate ever secured has been given, the entire public for this occasion, one cent per mile, short line distance. Here is one of the great opportunities for the education of the youth. Don't fail to take your children and show them historic Chickamauga, with all its historical connections. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Go and see the old war generals and other officers point out the places of interest on the battlefield, let them show you and explain, in person, the markers erected on the battlefield showing the positions of the opposing armies at the time of battle. It will not be long until there will be left to this noble work; take this opportunity and don't let it escape you. It is worth six months in the school room to any student.

It will be many years, if ever again, that such an opportunity will present itself. See that your tickets read via the Louisville & Nashville R. R., the Battlefield Route. Call on your nearest railroad agent for rates and advertising matter pertaining to the reunion or write nearest representative of the Louisville & Nashville R. R.

R. says that on July 1st, there were 400 posts in this State, with a total membership of 14,861. On December 31, there were 404 posts and 15,721 members. This means a falling off in membership during six months of 860. Of this number 263 were removed by death. The others were either discharged or transferred.

He will endeavor to get Sherber's story and from him will learn his line of defense and before his return also get the story from the other side.

SQUIRREL HUNTING.

Some Hunters Do Not Seem to Understand the Law.

The season for hunting squirrels opened August 1 and continues until January 1 except from October 1 to November 10 which is the closed season when it is "unlawful to hunt any kind of game except wild duck and other water fowl." This is one provision of the law that not every one understands it seems. Read the section on page 730 of the Acts of 1905.

Some do not understand the requirements as to hunting license. One can hunt in his own township without a license but to hunt outside of the township in which you reside requires a regulation hunter's license which costs a dollar. Besides the license the hunter must secure permission from the land owner, otherwise he is liable to prosecution.

Hon. Z. T. Sweeney, the game warden, says that many other states have much stricter game laws than Indiana has. In Illinois a man cannot hunt on his own farm without a license and in other states the law imposes a license fee on a man if he has a gun, although he may not shoot the gun once in five years.

SEEING AMERICA.
Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a light difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

THE LAW ABUSED

This is the Opinion of Jay County's Prosecutor Who Takes Action.

JUSTICE TOO LENIENT

Decision of Justice of the Peace Reversed by F. S. Court Who Orders Defendant's Rearrest.

Singular Complication Grows Out of Neighborhood Quarrel in Which a Gun is Used.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 3.—On the assumption that justice is being trifled with in Richland township, Prosecutor Wheat has issued a warrant charging Thomas Murphy, a farmer, with an attempt to murder William Keener. It is alleged that Keener and Murphy had an altercation on a public road Monday. Murphy later went to Keener's place and dragged the latter from his home. Keener was felled with a blow from a gun barrel. Murphy had the muzzle of the gun against Keener's breast, ready to fire, when Mrs. Keener and a son rushed from the house.

The woman struck the gun, knocking the muzzle from her husband's breast. It was discharged, however, and the contents passed through her skirt, lacerating her ankle and tearing away her garments.

Murphy went to Justice Berry at Dunkirk, where Mrs. Murphy filed an affidavit charging assault and battery on Keener. Murphy paid $1 and costs, thinking this would close the incident. Another justice put him under a small peace bond, but Prosecutor Wheat ordered his immediate rearrest.

SHE IS SAFE AND SOUND

Girl Who Disappeared at Lafayette Reached Belgium Safely.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 3.—The mystery surrounding the strange disappearance of Frances Mary Kruse from her home in this city on March 17 has been cleared by the receipt of a letter by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kruse. The letter was from a sister of the missing girl in Belgium, and it said that Frances had arrived safely and would make her home in Belgium.

After her strange disappearance on the night of St. Patrick's day, Frances Kruse dropped out of existence as completely as though she had been swallowed by the earth. The river was dragged in vain. Detectives were put on her trail and police in almost every big city of the West received notice with a description of the girl. Not a word came to her grief-stricken parents, and a few weeks ago they gave her up for dead, fearing that she had committed suicide in the Wabash river. The letter has brought joy to the hearts of the family. It said that the girl had worked her way to New York, where she had obtained a position and earned enough money to pay her passage on an ocean steamer arriving in Belgium a fortnight ago.

Investigating Voting Machines.
Logansport, Ind., Aug. 3.—According to the bids of the several companies asking for the contract to furnish Cass county with voting machines, it will cost from $15,000 to $17,500 to install the machines necessary to carry on an election. One company offered to furnish the twenty-five machines needed by the county at $600 each, while another offered to furnish the same number at $700 each. Owing to the alleged depleted condition of the county treasury it is doubtful if the county commissioners will order the purchase of the machines at this time.

Boys Act Promptly.
Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 3.—Two boys swimming in Wildcat creek, five miles east of this city, discovered a burning bridge on the Wabash railroad and flagged the Continental Limited, the fastest train on the road, in time to prevent a wreck. The entire framework of the bridge was enveloped in flames when the train reached the place.

Cannot Survive.
Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—James R. Carnahan, past grand chancellor of Indiana and mayor general of the Knights of Pythias of the world, is dying at his home in this city of paralysis of the stomach, complicated with other diseases. He has been ill since last January and for the last month has been confined to his room.

Cantwell's Confession.
